THE REPRESSION BILL.

Discussion of the Tyrannical
Measure in the Commons—
Newspaper Comment.

[By Cable to the Sentinel.]

LONDON, May 13.—In the house of commons, last night, Dillon, in speaking against the repression bill, referred to Saturday's slaughter in Phoenix park, and said: "For the first time Irish annals were stained with such an assassination. No Englishman felt the humiliation more than himself, but he declared it did not rest on Irish history, but on Forster. If the government sent another man to Ireland to carry out a measure similar to that under which Forster acted, such an accused act would again sully the pages of history."

Mr. Healy said the bill contemplated hanging power to three judges on any evidence that could be trumped up.

Mr. Harcourt, replying to the questions, stated that the extreme penalty on summary conviction by a magistrate would be six months imprisonment. As to whether the bill would be retrospective, he said any crime committed and which should be brought to justice would come under its operation.

Mr. Cowen (radical member for New Castle-on-Tyne) said the bill virtually amounted to one clause, placing the lives, liberties and property of the Irish people in the hands of Lord Spencer.

PRESS COMMENT.

The Pall Mall Gazette, while accepting other parts of the bill, protests against the clauses concerning the rights of search, restriction, liberty of the press and public meetings and the apprehension of nocturnal prowlers. It believes, however, the bill will be passed in much the same form as introduced, and says it brings us to the bottom that all severity can do at first. Its failure will be attributed to too lenient administration. It seems to be preparing for all that is worst for England and Ireland.

The Freeman's Journal (Dublin) declares the bill one of the most tyrannical enactments of modern times, and it is perhaps the fiercest coercion act ever proposed for Ireland. The champions of liberty, since the assassination on Saturday last, have been helpless. It will be their duty to withstand the bill, though they may be defeated.

The Globe prints the following prominently: "The whole provisions of the coercion bill were recommended by Forster previous to his resignation of the Irish chief secretaryship."

Anti-Assassination Meeting in New York.

[By Telegram to the Sentinel.]

NEW YORK, May 13.—Mayor Grace presided last night at the Irish anti-assassination meeting in Cooper Union, which was crowded. Anticipating trouble from the O'Donovan Rossa faction, 100 policemen were distributed throughout the hall and land leagues were placed so they could assist the officers if necessary. Rossa himself sat in the center of the hall with several policemen near him. Mrs. Parnell, as she appeared on the platform, received a perfect ovation, and as the names of the leaders in Ireland were mentioned, the building resounded with cheers.

During Mayor Grace's opening address he said as Irishmen they had assembled to express publicly their abhorrence of the crime in Phoenix park Saturday last, and to condemn the men who conceived the murder. [A voice—"three cheers for the kill-ling."]

Richard O'Gorman, a patriot of 1848, as he arose to speak was greeted with cries of "Three cheers for the assassins!" "Dynamite!" etc. "The crime," O'Gorman said, "was unnatural, and he repudiated the idea that the deadly weapons were wielded by Irish hands. Ireland could not meet England in conflict, and the way to success was through Charles Stewart Parnell and his associates. America does not want war with England, though the American people know that justice had not been done Ireland, and they want the Irish to succeed. If the path laid out was followed, home rule would prevail.

Palmer's Plans.

[By Cable to the Sentinel.]

LONDON, May 13.—Palmer, who has been a volunteer detective in several important cases, and who writes over the signature of War Hawk, in a communication to the St. James Gazette, says he has reason to know the arrest of the assassins will be facilitated if the government will give a guarantee not to surrender the informer in the event of his being claimed by the Russian or German police.

Attempt to Blow up the Mansion House.

[By Cable to the Sentinel.]

LONDON, May 13.—A canister was found at the Mansion house last night suspended by a brass hook to the railing in front of the building. Attached to it was a lighted fuse which was extinguished by a policeman. The fuse was made of rag soaked with paraffine, and was inserted in a hole in the box. This box is believed to be full of gun powder, of which it smells strongly. It is twelve inches long and six in diameter. The police around the Mansion house and other city buildings have been doubled and many reserve policemen called out for extra duty.

Patsy Divine Dies Game.

[By Telegram to the Sentinel.]

CLINTON, Ill., May 13.—At eleven o'clock yesterday morning Patsy Divine, the twice condemned murderer of Aaron Goodfellow, was hanged in the county jail in the presence of 150 people. He died game. Never was a cooler, more self possessed, or intrepid man upon the scaffold. He denied on the scaffold his guilt in a short speech, asking forgiveness of all whom he had ever wronged. He died by strangulation. His last words, previous to the putting on of the black cap, were, "wait a moment, till I take this chew out of my mouth." Before stepping on the trap he tested it carefully with his right foot. He was attended by Rev. Fathers Weldon and Pottan, of Bloomington.

Destructive Fire at Pottsdam.

[By Cable to the Sentinel.]

BERLIN, May 13.—A fire broke out yesterday in the hall of the Hygienic exhibition, near the Moabit district, Pottsdam. The building was wood and was soon burned to the ground. The exhibition was to have been opened next Tuesday, and many costly exhibits were already in place, all of which were destroyed. The flames spread to and swept away several timber yards adjoining. An explosion of gas in the cafe, in the south side of the building, caused the fire. The loss is estimated at several hundred thousand pounds. Emperor William came from Pottsdam and was on the ground during the height of the conflagration. No lives are known to be lost.

The circus at Fort Wayne, Saturday, May 20, with the biggest tent, the greatest circus entertainment, the most novel Museum attraction, the finest menagerie and the best stud of horses, is coming, Batchellor and Doris' Great Inter-Ocean Circus. The managers determined to have on the road this year the greatest show on earth and this mammoth aggregation is a realization of this determination. In the circus will be presented the best riders of the new and old world; in the Menagerie, the finest and most complete collection of animals, birds and reptiles ever gathered together and in the Museum, the acknowledged "eighth wonder of the world," Millie Christine, the Two Headed Nightingale, who was secured by Messrs Batchellor and Doris, at a salary of $25,000 for the season.

Desperadoes Killed.

[By Telegram to the Sentinel.]

CHICAGO, May 13.—A Fort Garland, Colorado, special says that Dick Rogers, a cow boy, was shot dead by soldiers, and Jim Cottian, the notorious stage robber, was fatally wounded yesterday evening. These desperadoes had got drunk, terrified the town and were trying to run the soldiers out of the fort. Large rewards are offered for Cottian in Texas.

A $20,000 Fire at Minneapolis.

[By Telegram to the Sentinel.]

MINNEAPOLIS, May 13.—A fire early this morning destroyed a block of seven frame stores south of Washington avenue, owned by E. B. Moore and E. M. Titterton, valued at $20,000. Among the tenants who are heavy losers, were, A. Cohen, dry goods, $1,500; Weckland Bros., liquor, $1,200; Bennett & Brown, liquors, $2,000. Total loss, $20,000. Insurance, $11,000.

The Woman's Suffrage Bill Reported on Favorably.

[By Telegram to the Sentinel.]

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The senate select committee on woman's suffrage, by a vote of three to two, agreed to recommend to the senate for the adoption of Senator Lapham's joint resolution proposing the following amendment to the constitution: Article 16, section 1. The right of a citizen of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex.

Section 2. Congress shall have power by appropriate legislation to enforce the provisions of this article. The vote was ayes, Lapham, Blair, and Jackson—3. Noes, George and Fair—2. Absent, Anthony and Ferry.

Letter of Thanks From Mrs. Garfield.

[By Telegram to the Sentinel.]

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Senator Sherman has received the following letter:

CLEVELAND, O., May 8.
MY DEAR SIR—I have received your note, with enclosed notice of pension granted me for my husband's sake. I am truly mindful of the generous kindness shown the family of General Garfield, not only by friends, but by the national legislature, and may I ask you to make acknowledgment of this in whatever way and by whatever expression of my gratitude seems to you appropriate, with sentiments of high regard.

Very truly yours,
LUCRETIA R. GARFIELD.

Suicide of a Rich Old Man.

[By Telegram to the Sentinel.]

ST. PAUL, May 13.—Oliver Dow, an old and well-known, but somewhat eccentric citizen of Minneapolis, committed suicide by hanging in his house. There were about three feet of rope in use, one end being around the man's neck and the other fastened to a nail driven into the side of the building. Owing to the shortness of the rope it was necessary for the man's body to rest in almost a sitting posture on the floor in order to carry out the determination. Dow has recently showed symptoms of insanity. Yesterday he sold $8,000 worth of property to the railroad company, but he afterward seemed to think he so did cheap, and that worried him considerably. During the storm of last evening he was about the ground pacing it off and saying that "God was pelting him with hail." There are rumors of an unhappy domestic life, all of which doubtless preyed upon his weakened mind and drove him to the commission of the deed. Dow was a mason by trade; was between fifty and sixty years of age, and resided in Minneapolis for seventeen years, and was worth fully $50,000.

Stiff Statistics.

[By Telegram to the Sentinel.]
ST. LOUIS, May 10.—The coroner's annual report for the year ending March 31, shows that there were eighty-six suicides committed in this city, thirty-one homicides, eight infanticides and that there were two hundred and twelve accidental deaths and four hundred and thirty three deaths without medical attendance. Of the suicides, 52 per cent. were by Germans; 20 per cent. by Americans, and 9 per cent. by Irish.

Senator Mitchell Will Fight the Republican Ticket.

[By Telegram to the Sentinel.]

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Senator Mitchell telegraphed to friends in Pennsylvania calling on them to organize and fight the ticket nominated at Harrisburg. He cries: "Down with bossism, machinism and stewartism!"

LOCAL LINES.

Wanted, boarders at 96 East Wayne street.

W. W. Reed, late of the Kirtley house, Warsaw, is in the city.

S. P. Bradley, master mechanic of the Grand Rapids road, is in the city. Deputy Sheriff Nelson is out in the country serving the special venire in the Maybury case.

On Monday, the premises occupied by W. T. Pratt, J. P., and the Sunday Mail will be torn down and ground broken for a brick structure by Mrs. Frank B. Vogel.

Justice Pratt, this afternoon, married David Neuenchwander, the Muncie fireman, and Elizabeth Duehrman, of Harrison, O., the parties to the hasty suit mentioned yesterday. A wise settles the matter, and Circuit Judge Dawson, went out of Sinclair & Hanna's office with fat fees which he expended in the purchase of cigars for the delegates. For the first time in his life Justice Pratt did not kiss the bride.

War in China.

Chinesetown is all broke up. We thought when Judge Sinclair familiarized our heathen population with the American pastime of litigation that he would reap the folly of such an act, and so it proves. Chong Kee, Lam Fluon, Lam Chuen, and all the other monosyllabically named Celestials like the love sick maidens in "Patience," have turned from Bunthorne represented in this instance by Judge Sinclair and are following after Grosvenor, who happens to be represented by Mr. Adam H. Bittenger. Yesterday all the washee-washee men in the city were in the circuit court room and kept up such a unceasing jargon that Judge O'Rourke complained of a headache and Deputy Sheriff Haunce in sore disgust went off fishing.

The trouble, it appears, is about the suit brought by Judge Sinclair in the name of Lam Chuen against Kate Gable, the laundress alluded to before in these columns. When Lam Chuen paid a trip to China to astonish his almond-eyed and pig-tailed relatives with his American clothes, "39" cigar and the bottle of cocktails in his pocket, he bought out Kate Gable's laundry and put his brother, Lam Fluon in charge. He also stipulated that Kate should not engage in the laundry business in this city. When Lam Chuen came back he was astonished to find a suit brought against Mrs. Gable in his name for breach of contract. He hastened to have the proceedings dismissed at his attorney's cost, as he claims he did not authorize the suit. Judge Sinclair differs with the Mongolian, and hence the war. Mr. A. H. Bittenger has espoused Lam Chuen's suit, and as the Chinese, like the Irish, stick together, Mr. Bittenger may now be seen followed about by an admiring drove of Chinamen.

A hasty suit was certified up to the circuit court from Justice Pratt's office last week, no mention of which has heretofore appeared in the papers. The relatrix is Martha M. Rhoades and the pay deceiver, one Byron Gaff, who has skipped. Martha swears the infant was begotten last August and therefore can't tell its sex.

Ansel B. Ball and wife, of Warsaw, are at the Aveline.

More electric lights will illuminate our thoroughfares to-night.
Alanson Rogers was fined $11.75 this morning for drunkenness.
Joe Cope left for Muskegon, Mich., yesterday to visit his sister who is quite ill.

Mrs. Capt. Diehl is again very ill. As soon as she recovers she will take a trip south in search of health.
Gart Shober has been appointed local correspondent of the San Francisco Dramatic Brevities, a spicy publication.

Harry Owens, of Toledo, a pleasant young gentleman connected with the Day Kidney Pad company, is in the city.

The Fort Wayne, Warren and Brazil railroad company will build shops here, if they can obtain a lift in the way of cash.

Miss Ella Shively, of Mount Summit, will next week visit her sister, Miss Maggie Shively, of the Conservatory of Music.

The parties who took an umbrella from a Fairfield avenue porch are known, and if they wish to avoid trouble they had better return it.

Next spring, Joe Mommer will replace his one story frame building on Calhoun street, now occupied by Geo. Ortlieb with a three story brick building.

W. S. Jones, civil engineer of the New York, Chicago and St. Louis road, will reside with his bride, nee Miss Bradford, of Columbus, Ohio, at the Hanna house.

Catharine Pennington, of Bear Swamp, Pa., has recovered $10,000 from the Pennsylvania railroad company, damages for injuries received in an accident last spring.

It is noticeable that a certain clique of hangers-on about the police station have left vacant chairs since Hugh Diehl became boss Owl. The absence of these gentry is not felt.

Decatur Democrat: Allen Zollars, one of the prominent attorneys of Fort Wayne, and a candidate on the democratic ticket for judge of the supreme court called at the Democrat office, Monday.

Bluffton Chronicle. The Robinson house of Ft. Wayne keeps up its well established reputation as one of the first class hotels of the state. Mr. Robinson is courteous and popular with the travelling public.

Last night, Marshal Falker found that a bad hole on Calhoun, in front of the Mayer house, which is in process of repair, was left open. The marshal saw to it that the hole was boarded over, and thus probably saved some horse from having his limbs broken.

The Sylvan lake house, at Rome City, managed by H. S. Menach, was formally opened last night. A large number of persons from this and surrounding cities were present, and were right royally entertained by Mr. Menach. The hotel has been elegantly refitted and altogether is a very desirable place.

Joe Clark bought a fine Kentucky horse the other day, but owing to the bad condition of the roads, has driven the animal but once and that about four blocks. Yesterday, Mr. Clark refused an offer of Hon. B. C. Bell for $100 over and above what was paid for the animal and the expenses of transportation here.

The Peru Republican says of a lady formerly of this city: "Mrs. W. G. Alexander died at her home in Toledo, Ohio, May 4th, of cancer. She was a christian lady beloved by all who knew her and especially her husband and three children. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander lived in Peru for several years, leaving here about fourteen years ago."

The surveying corps of the proposed Fort Wayne, Lafayette and St. Louis road are now at work between Wabash, Ind., and Logansport. The contract for building the entire line from Fort Wayne to Terre Haute, 129 miles, has been let to the Indiana construction company, and the road between Wabash and Logansport is to be completed by January 1, 1883.

This morning, Chief of Police Diehl received a picture of T. J. Navin, and a circular setting forth that the authorities of Adrian, Michigan, want him for forgery. $3,000 reward is offered, $1,000 by the city council and $2,000 by Chas. Bidwell, sheriff of Lawrence county. The picture shows the forger to be quite a big, and with a rather prominent nose.

W. M. Graham, of Van Wert, O., is in the city.
Green hats for gentlemen have gone out of style.
Col. R. S. Robertson returned this morning from Detroit.

The township schools close on Friday for the summer term.
W. W. Cole's New York and New Orleans circus will be here this season.

Mrs. D. Darwin Hughes, jr., of Grand Rapids is visiting friends in the city.

The Maybury murder case comes up for trial in the criminal court Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Smith, of the Bijou theatre, Indianapolis, are expected in the city next week on a visit.

Geo. Ortlieb's ghost stories are calculated to chill the blood of the most sceptical. What is more, George believes 'em.

The Fort Wayne Microscopical society was to have met last night, but didn't. The organization is, however, by no means disbanded.

Dr. C. R. Dyer has completed an analysis of the stomach of Mrs. Kettleboro, of Wolf Lake. Symptoms of arsenical poisoning are disclosed.

The Ford Opera Company present the comic opera of "The Snake Charmer," by Audran, composer of "Olivette" and "La Mascotte," at the Academy the 22d.

Ed Crosby, of 113 DeWald street, employed in the Wabash shop, had three fingers of his right hand crushed this morning. Amputation will have to take place.

Prince's great gift book sale has opened up in the quarters lately occupied by Biddle's drug store. Patrons of the house have a chance to draw valuable and useful presents.

Mr. Harry Brelsford's bucket shop is now the only institution of the kind in the city. It is interesting to note that this concern pays out $170 a month for telegraphic market reports.

J. B. Harper returned this morning from Indianapolis. He informs us that the United States grand jury has not yet reported an indictment against Dr. Solomon Stough, of Waterloo.

Frank B. Vogel yesterday delivered the keys of the engine house to his successor, Henry Hilbrecht, and together they took an inventory. Mr. Vogel now sleeps undisturbed of nights.

Last Wednesday evening, Joe Lee, a dissipated character living on Marion street, chased his wife out of the house with a butcher knife. Joe then skipped out and has not returned. His wife will sue for a divorce.

The city council of Lafayette, propose to substitute the electric light in place of gas for street lighting. They should visit Fort Wayne and see the admirable working of the Jenney light before investing in an imperfect system.

Joshua Greenfelder, of J. B. White's store, was observed yesterday trundling an interesting infant in a baby carriage. He appeared unwilling to court observation. A number of his lady friends saw him and ask us what it means. We leave it to Joshua.

John Dixon, who came here lately from St. Louis, was unable to find work and this morning requested a pass of the township trustee to his home. The man is badly ruptured and says he is unable to work even if he is given a chance. He was shipped out of the city.

The motion for a new trial was argued this morning by J. Q. Stratton, attorney for Isaac Winslow, convicted in the criminal court of being a pimp, and was granted by Judge Withers. Winslow is the reputed husband of a female somewhat widely known to numerous gentlemen of the city.

A COON CARVING.
Two of Barcus' Niggers Slash Away at Each Other With this Deadly Butcher Knife.

Sidney Singleton is a darky who made some newspaper notoriety a short time ago by endeavoring to sell rats to Chong Kee, one of Judge Sinclair's faithful Celestial adherents. The Chinaman didn't see the joke and chased the coon off the premises and then had him arrested for provoke. The darky couldn't pay his fine and went to jail. Coming out, he obtained a position as waiter at Barcus' restaurant and his belligerent propensities have been the source of great amusement to the boarders at Barcus.

Last night, Singleton and another colored person named Henry Smith alias Adams, who is second cook at the restaurant, had a dispute, and Sidney was challenged to go out doors and fight. Sidney thought in doors was good as out, and inflicted a stunning blow on the second cook's black proboscis, which speedily caused the Ethiopian to change his hue from a dense black to a bright red. Sidney then knocked Henry down and commenced to chew his ear, until the cook feeling for his razor and failing to find it, seized a sharp butcher knife, and proceeded to slice off the greater portion of Sidney's flat nose, wounding up by cutting a couple of gashes in his forehead, and a piece out of his cheek. At this juncture, Mr. Barcus called for the police and about four of them ran in and arrested the darkies. Singleton bleeding profusely, was taken to the station where Dr. Dimpin sewed up his wounds, the fellow being weak from loss of blood. Mr. Barcus, who was much annoyed at the affair, went bail for Smith who was badly thumped, and Singleton was locked up.

This morning Singleton was sent to jail for twenty-two days, and the case against the cook was not pressed, Singleton forgetting to file an affidavit.

Peter Heller's Insanity.
THE SENTINEL has often alluded to the hallucinations which possess the venerable Peter Heller, familiarly known as "Uncle Peter," whose bent figure and flowing white beard are frequently seen on our streets. Mr. Heller has long been in his dotage, and has caused so much trouble to his relatives on account of his insane freaks, that to-day, at Justice Ryan's office, a commission in lunacy, consisting of Dr. W. H. Myers and Justices Ryan and Harding adjudged the old man a lunatic, and the papers were forwarded to Indianapolis this afternoon. Old Mr. Heller has for fifty years been a resident of this county, and was at one time wealthy. He founded the hamlet known as "Heller's Corners," in the vicinity of which he formerly owned much real estate. His age is seventy-five years and he has twelve children, two of his daughters being married to Christian Off and Lucien P. Stapleford, of this city. A mania of his is to gather chips imagining them human bones. He also believes himself invested with supernatural power to heal all known diseases, and though with one foot in the grave is consumed with a weakness for the opposite sex. To recount his many eccentricities would be to fill columns.

It is a source of regret for the old gentleman's relatives to take this step, but as he grows older he becomes more obstinate and unmanageable.

Local Amusement Notes.

The Ford Comic Opera company, due here the 22d, is now playing a successful engagement at McVicker's theatre, Chicago. Miss Marie Becker, Miss Rosa Cook, Miss Sembler and Geo. W. Denham are the principals.

Batchelor & Doris' circus, which appears here the 20th, and John O'Brien's Circus Royal, seen here last season, are having a very vituperative war (on paper). The proprietors of these shows denounce each other as knaves and swindlers, and when they meet take a cock tail together and discuss the effect upon an unsophisticated public.

Among the shows seen here this season which have closed are Baker & Farron, "Muldoon's Blunders," Frank Mordant, Genevieve Ward, "The World," "Galley Slave" and Robson and Crane.

Jane Coombs, who is booked here next week, is supposed to be in Iowa. Kane Bros. say they have no intention of converting their block into an opera house, as stated by a city paper. Mr. Alf Shrimpton, the theatrical architect, says also that no plans have been submitted to him.

Eric Bayley's "Colossal" company, booked here, have opened.

The city band rehearsed last night, and have a business meeting next Tuesday night. Friends of the fair organization, a prize to the jelly will be paid to know that the plan is a prefigured success.

The Catholic fair at home, and for eight days during the season at Potosi, is now in progress.

Railroad Men, Shop Men, Factory Men.

Pay Day is at hand. If you wish to invest your money judiciously to clothe Yourself and Your Boys, examine the stock, the superior work and the extremely low prices of the celebrated makers of garments for Men, Boys and Children.

SAM, PETE & MAX, ELECTRIC CLOTHIERS.

will not give the "Snake Charmer" here, but may do Lescocq's "Manola," or Solomon's "Claude Duval" "Patience" and "La Mascotte" are also in their repertoire.

Batchelor & Doris' circus carries a large boa constrictor, and also a serpent charmer. At Norristown, Pa., last week, the serpent attacked his charmer, throwing its coils around his neck. Reluctant to kill such a valuable reptile, he disengaged its folds. It then threw itself around his legs, but was again cast off. These defeats only enraged it, and it coiled around his throat a third time with the evident intention of strangling him. There was no further choice, and the charmer had to kill it by breaking its neck.

Clark Fairbank, local correspondent of the Chicago News Letter, says referring to the Randall reception to the Ideals: "There were about as many lovesick maidens at the reception as in the opera, who will doubtless ever recall with pleasure their acquaintance with the handsome tenor, Mr. Karl."

Iced Wine.

A gentleman of this city, a passenger on No. 2, the other day, informed us of a very ludicrous incident that occurred on the train coming down from Chicago. His story runs as follows: A number of commercial tourists, better known as "drummers," were seated together and about to open divers bottles of champagne, when it suddenly occurred to them that there was no ice to be had. A generous old German noticing their unpleasant quandary, promptly suggested that perhaps he could obtain some on the train. The kind offer was gladly accepted and the German invited to partake with them if he could procure the ice. Going to another car he shortly returned with the glistening lump. It was shortly used up and the German sent for more, which in its turn vanished with the wine. Finally there were two bottles left without ice. The festive drummers again requested the German's generous efforts in quest of more ice. Out he went, but shortly returned without the congealed article, remarking sadly, as he resumed his seat: "The baggage master will not let me have any more. He says my brother-in-law's body won't keep until we get to Philadelphia if I take any more ice from the coffin."

Maybury's Jurors.

This morning County Clerk Spencer drew the following special venire of twenty-four men to try the case of the negro Squire C. Maybury, charged with the murder of O'Meara, the tramp, Jury Commissioners Hand and Wilson being present: Jesse Heaton, Marion; S. Lamont, Jefferson; James Eward, St. Joe; John Harber, jr., Marion; Peter Grabner, Jackson; Ed. Schrader, Adams; Samuel Waxes, Monroe; James McBride, El River; John W. Fitch, Wayne; James Akey, Adams; John McIntosh, Madison; Dan Krouse, Abolte; Francis Goehle, Lake; Joseph Starke, Adams; David W. Lipps, El River; John Hostler, Cedar Creek; Sam Bollyard, Jackson; Charles W. Ludwig, Washington; Warren Robinson, Pleasant; John Crawford, Lafayette; Ludwig Schowe, Washington; Joseph Challeger, St. Joe; James Connison, Pleasant; and Abe Stofor, Milan.

A RUINED GIRL.
Miss Mary Stanbury, of Toledo, Brought Here to Hide Her Shame—Her Father Comes After, But Falls to Find Her.

A few particulars of a sad case came to the ears of a SENTINEL reporter last Tuesday, and with diligence he proceeded to unearth the affair in its completeness.

There is in this city a certain female, who has on the strict q. t. proves a "sympathizing friend" to such unfortunate girls as are in need of a temporary refuge from the world in order to hide their indiscretions, provided always that she is well paid. This woman lives in the east end of the city, and as soon as we secure more proof of her operations we shall give her name and address. As yet, nothing criminal can be traced to her door, yet there is little doubt but that she has been guilty of acts that, if proven, would seclude her behind the bars for a period of years. This woman is said to have the collusion when required of an alleged physician, whose practice is small and whose ways are dark.

Last week, Friday, a young woman deeply veiled, alighted from a Wabash train. She was attended by a gentleman, who carries on an extensive retail drug business in Toledo. The two entered a hack and were driven to the residence of the woman mentioned where she now is and will remain until she experiences the pangs of her first maternity, an event not far distant. From different sources the reporter learned that the girl's name is Mary Stanbury and that she is the daughter of a farmer living near Toledo. She is described as a very handsome and ravishingly formed brunette. The story of her disgrace so far as we could ascertain it, is that the Toledo druggist has been meeting her clandestinely with the usual results which follow impropriety. He is a married man and has a family.

Last Saturday, the father of the girl came to the city to find her, and after a fruitless search returned, but one day this week was advised of his daughter's whereabouts by letter from her. He visited the Toledo druggist and the two with a refreshing coolness, bargained together to keep the matter quiet, the old man agreeing to accept a certain sum not to raise a rumpus, and disgrace the druggist and his family who move in first society of the Ohio city.

In a short time, THE SENTINEL hopes to give more facts regarding this singular affair.

Last night, Patrolman Owens discovered the door of James Wilding & Son's coal office open with the key in the lock, and the door of Moellerling & Co.'s grocery store corner Lafayette and Holman streets was in the same condition. The faithful officer secured the fastenings.

*"By asking too much we may lose the little that we had before." Kidney-Wort asks nothing but a fair trial. This given, it fears no loss of faith in its viries. A lady writes from Oregon: "For thirty years I have been afflicted with kidney complaints, two packages of Kidney Wort have done me more good than all the medicine and doctors I have had before. I believe it is a sure cure."
